Vaillant makes millionth latest generation ecoTEC condensing boiler

- Remscheid plant supplies high-quality products around the world
- To mark this milestone, Vaillant donates heating appliances to partner SOS Children's Villages

Remscheid, 22 November 2016 – Today, at its parent plant in Remscheid, heating, ventilation and air-conditioning specialist Vaillant Group celebrated the manufacture of its one millionth wall-hung, latest generation Vaillant ecoTEC condensing boiler. The appliance has been produced here since 2011, with annual production numbers on the rise. “Our colleagues manufacture high-quality products in Remscheid that enjoy enormous popularity around the world – as far as China,” says Plant Manager Lutz Forßmann. To mark the manufacture of its millionth latest generation condensing boiler, Vaillant is kitting out the Mütterzentrum (“Mothers Centre”) at the SOS Children’s Village in Salzgitter with ecoTEC condensing boilers. As a strategic partner of “SOS Children’s Villages worldwide”, Vaillant has long since installed highly efficient heating technology in buildings belonging to the charitable organisation around the globe. The Vaillant Group’s parent plant in Remscheid is one of the largest manufacturing sites within the company’s production network. With the construction of a new research and development centre, the company is transforming its headquarters into a significant location for pioneering technologies.
